Today we can say that education is a “relationship”. The teacher by his friendly ways influences the students on the learning and teaching process as well as in character formation. It is normal for youngsters to give vent to their pent up energy in little pranks which can go sometimes beyond the limits.

Manrakhan Mahto Group of Institutions has created a niche of its own by virtue of its infrastructure and campus, versatile faculties as well as quality output. It is an Endeavour of Manrakhan Mahto Group of Institutions to provide dynamic learning process to train, equip and mould the trainees of teaching, nursing, pharmacy and Para medical professions to cater to the expectations of the modern society.

Education, Discipline, Faith, Practice and Spirituality (vè; ; u]vuqkk u] vkLFk vH kl , oavè; kRe)

- Education is the transmission of knowledge, skills, and character traits and manifests in various forms. Formal education occurs within a structured institutional framework, such as public schools, following a curriculum.
- Discipline is the self-control that is gained by requiring that rules or orders be obeyed, and the ability to keep working at something that is difficult. Disciplinarians believe that such self-control is of the utmost importance and enforce a set of rules that aim to develop such behavior for personal growth and development.
- Faith is confidence or trust in a person, thing, or concept. In the context of religion, faith is "belief in God or in the doctrines or teachings of religion". Faith has multiple definitions, including "something that is believed especially with strong conviction", "complete trust", "belief and trust in and loyalty to God", as well as "a firm belief in something for which there is no proof."
- Practice can be defined as the activity performed to produce a known or envisioned effect, where individuals adapt their learned practices to the situations they confront. It is not the rote reproduction of social and cultural life, but rather a dynamic and complex analysis of multiple social and cultural situations.
- Spirituality involves the recognition of a feeling or sense or belief that there is something greater than myself, something more to being human than sensory experience, and that the greater whole of which we are part is cosmic or divine in nature.
